CLARKSBURG

Has Representatives on Each Team in the Big Game Turkey Day.

Interest continues to grow in the football program, arranged for Saturday, Thanksgiving Day, when the West Virginia-Dennison and the Waynesburg-Fairmont Normal games will be played. Clarksburg will be well represented in attendance as quite a few have signified their intention of taking in the game.

Robin Harrison, a Clarksburg boy, will be in the Varsity lineup, appearing for the Morgantown team at left end where he has played a great game the present season. This is Harrison's second year on the Varsity. He is a graduate of the local High school team and played on the Clarksburg High while enrolled as a student here. His many friends and classmates in this city will take in the game to root for their old friend.

On the Dennison team, appearing against Harrison on the West Virginia team, will be another Clarksburg boy, "Turkey" Curdin, also a graduate of the local High school and attending for his second year the Dennison University. Curdin will play center for Dennison and from all reports this season he is putting up a great game at center for a youngster and no doubt will receive favorable mention in regard to the All-Ohio team. His weight will be all to keep him from a place on the paper eleven.

Fairmont also has representatives on the Dennison team while on the West Virginia eleven three Fairmonters appear in the lineup. Captain Bachman, of the West Virginia team, who has been out of the lineup for the largest part of the season, will be back in the game, and his presence will greatly strengthen the Morgantown team owing to the fact that he is a great line plunger and kicker. His absence from the team has crippled it at least fifty per cent.

pounds. H. Cork told the jury that Michael Glancy did not strike Devono. John A. McDonald stated that Cork told him the day of the incident that Dick Porter struck a blow.

At the Monday afternoon session of the court Carson Wine for the defense stated that he was in a room over the saloon and saw the five men approach the door as Devono and others came out. He stated that the men attacked the Italian and he saw the fight until the combatants got beneath a street awning just below the saloon.

Elmer V. Lowe stated that shortly before the fight as he was standing at the door James M. Devine came down the pavement, grabbed him by the arm and remarked that he wanted to see what kind of a battle he could put up, and then Devine began calling him vulgar names and cursing him. Lowe called Police-man Robert Shinnston to the door in charge.

Frank McNemar stated that as he was coming along in the neighborhood of the saloon Michael Glancy approached him and asked him to hang around as he expected there would be trouble, and then he handed McNemar a drink and left. Policeman Stitt related to the jury that after he took Devine in charge and was about two-thirds across the Glen Elk bridge, Devine requested not to be arrested and members of the driving party coming up said they would see that Devine arrived at home. The policeman then released Devine as about that time he responded to a call from the Glen Elk hotel and was absent when the killing was done.

At the conclusion of the evidence shortly before the noon hour Tuesday, the attorneys in the case submitted instructions to Judge Raymond Maxwell to be passed on.

In the afternoon lengthy instructions were given the jury by Judge Maxwell and the argument was being made at press time. A verdict is expected early tonight.

BOY IS JAILED.

Nelson Slaughter, a colored orphan 12 years old, was jailed Tuesday by Constable William Post at the instance of Edward Smith, colored, the boy's guardian, to await a hearing before Magistrate Gordon on a charge of incorrigibility. The guardian wants to send the lad to the reform school.

J. E. Barrett, of Bridgeport, was in the city today.

Miss Minnie Maxwell, of West Union, has returned home after a visit to friends here.
